N F ANTI -PAEDOPHILE MARCH IN BROMLEY

NF MARCH IN BROMLEY

Screams of "Nazi scum off our streets" and other such well worn anti British parrot phrases greeted the National Front upon arrival at Bromley for a march in support of widespread local opposition to a special hostel for paedophiles in the area. As on so many previous occasions, the opposition amounted to so much hot air from the now familiar assortment of smack heads representatives of the lesbo/bumster fraternity and various other anti social misfits that go together to make up ANAL (Anti Nazi League). A fact they seemed to have overlooked, however, was that what they always refer to as "our streets" also happen to belong to the general public, the majority of whom have no time for ANAL and on this occasion, as on many others, showed they had no objection to the National Front being on THEIR streets. During it's progress through the busy town centre, which on this Saturday was crowded with large numbers of shoppers, the NF received enthusiastic support and approval from many members of the public. The only incident throughout the day occurred when two hysterical 'anti Nazi' teenagers attempted to 'storm' the column but, and fortunately for them, were held at bay by a heavy police presence. The parade, which appeared to have attracted much media interest, terminated (and quite appropriately so, some might well say) outside Bromley Labour Party HQ where a short meeting was addressed by the National Activities Organiser and followed by a collection in which generous donations were given to party funds.

SODOM AND GOMORRAH IN WESTMINSTER

Hardly a week goes by without us hearing reports of either a child being murdered by paedophiles, or perverts, or of a teenager dying of drug abuse. What has been the government's response to this appalling state of affairs? Even more of the kind of legislation which caused the problem. Anyone who has studied the downfall of previous civilisations will realise that an over- preoccupation with sex and sexual perversion was one of the major contributory factors. " New" Labour and their socialist allies are obviously well aware of this. The government has directed its full energy into removing Clause 28 and putting homosexuality at the top of the school curriculum. This has been more important to "New" Labour than improving the quality of education. The Christian church has been handed over to revolutionary Marxists. Our children have been left to seek moral guidance from the likes of flippant disc jockeys, including jailed pop mogul, Jonathon King. He was sent down for sex attacks on five young boys. (It is believed that he preyed on hundreds more during a period of 30 years). Gary Glitter, Chris Denning, Steven Jolley and Michael Barrymore are just a few of the many perverts who have been put up for adoration by the immoral entertainment controllers. You would have expected the continued disgusting behaviour of Ron Davis, the "Clapham Common Prowler", to have brought an abrupt end to his political career. Not a bit of it. He is still a key player .

While our elderly are left dying on trolleys in corridors, and rail commuters take their lives in their hands, not only from questionable rail-tracks, but knife-wielding yobs, the government gets on with policies from its own agenda. These include free condoms to 13-year-olds, marriage for homosexuals, a plan to give young girls the pill at school without their parents, knowledge, and a law on the horizon to allow sex in public places. The Prime Minister's wife, Cherie Blair, never misses an opportunity to undermine Christian values. In September 2000 she was fighting to free a dangerous paedophile from restrictions. She claimed that a court order banning him from approaching children infringed on his human rights. Paedophile, Graham Brown has 27 convictions -- many for sex offences. He has been sent to jail several times since he was sixteen for abusing children, some as young as ten. Brown was caught by police trying to lure three teenage boys with what looked like a bunch of keys and a £5 note. It was after this episode that Cherie Blair decided to take his case to the European Court of Human Rights, claiming that the sex offender's order was unfair.

The Independent Television Commission, yet another body of New Labour cronies, has passed changes which will allow sexual intercourse to be shown before the nine o' clock watershed. The film industry has also relaxed its rules, which will allow a younger audience to watch" explicit sex and extreme violence. Channel 4 regularly puts on programmes that offend the decent majority while exciting the sexually dangerous. Brass Eye, a sick programme that joked about paedophilia in a disgusting and offensive way, was screened last July. Homosexual kissing has been shown on many occasions, and the Big Brother series degenerated into a race to see who was going to have live sex on the show first. Another sick side of television was the B.B.C.'s hero worship of the Krays and the £280.000 they paid for Reggie Kray's final interview. Channel 5 produced a series about the pornography industry in Sex and Shopping. Despite a large public outcry over the show, which was regarded as "unacceptably explicit for transmission at any time", they went on and made another series. Channel 4's so-called religious series "Sin" showed a woman giving a man oral sex. "Jesus, if you could help me now," he cried out. Also in the series, a woman was shown having an orgasm, there was a discussion on penis enlargement, and a reference to a sex machine which was supposed to simulate sex.

Saatchi, another crony of the inner circle, has been allowed to get away with what many people considered to be a child porn display at his gallery. Saatchi specialises in the tasteless and offensive. His promotions have included a picture of Myra Hindley, the "Moors Murderess", and a cows head full of maggots. He is one of many leftists who are downgrading British art. The new head of B.B.C. religious broadcasting is Alan Bookbinder. He has a Jewish father and considers himself to be a non-believer. He previously authorised the Tinsel Town series that contained sex scenes and drug-taking.

The drug problem has for the most part been created by politicians. Firstly, by bringing into our country large numbers of people from countries where drug abuse is rampant. Governments knew full well that this would bring a drug culture to Britain. In addition the entertainment industry has promoted and glamorized drug abuse since the time of John Lennon during the 60's. Now that the craze has become a life-threatening epidemic for many youngsters, we see a situation where the government and police take little action to curb it. In fact, recent legislation to downgrade drugs and overlook certain drug use has clearly been brought in to make matters worse. In all of these perverted, permissive and subversive accounts that we have listed - and these are just a small example there is one common factor : all of those undermining our civilisation are extreme left-wingers. They all hate the National Front, but nowhere near as much as we detest them for what they do.

If you know of any convicted paedophiles in your area who are causing anxiety we would urge you to report them to the police as soon as possible and notify the National Front if you do not receive satisfactory assistance. Remember—we are here to assist your cause in ridding society of this menace.

What We Must Do For Youth

The National Front aims at quality in education rather than equality. This does not mean that all talented children should not have the opportunity to realise their full potential regardless of their background we intend to ensure that they do. What it does mean is that we recognise innate differences in intelligence and aptitude between children, and we believe that education streaming should allow for these. We also believe that choice of the type of education a child should have is something rightly left to its parents and not decided by the State. We do not commit ourselves to support of any specific academic system but on the contrary we believe that in a diversity of academic methods does the greatest richness of young talent develop. We do, however, demand that all places of education should include in their curriculum the development of character, physical health and fitness, patriotism and a degree of discipline. We see no virtue, as many educationalists of today do, in producing millions of young people with erudite minds in puny bodies, and lacking qualities of initiative, resourcefulness and will power. We seek to produce through education all-round men and all-round women, capable of making their way in a demanding world.

PRODUCING RESPONSIBLE CITIZENS

From an early age boys and girls should grow up in a wholesome environment and should be encouraged in pursuits that develop character and self reliance. We feel that a large amount of delinquency on the part of young people could be eliminated by the provision of a much greater range of sporting and recreational facilities, by which their natural energies may be channelled usefully. These days, youngsters in school and university are subjected ceaselessly to teachings which emphasise to them 'their rights'. We want to see a change in teaching which puts at least equal emphasis on duties, without which rights are not earned. As a vital training in responsible citizenship, youngsters should be encouraged to take more part in organisations for community service, such as old people's welfare.

ORDER IN THE SCHOOLS

We are determined to put an end to anarchy in Britain's schools and universities by restoring the authority of teachers and getting rid of those teachers who are unfit or unwilling to exercise authority. Students in universities who repeatedly cause disorder should not be tolerated but should be 'sent down' and their places filled by others willing to not abuse their privileges. Universities must once again become centres of learning, not of left-wing revolution. One vital step towards stopping political subversion in such establishments is to bring about strict supervision of the use of student union funds. In schools and universities we favour much greater emphasis than at present on those subjects conducive to the development of technology and the improvement of industrial efficiency in Britain. No country has a prouder record of brilliant inventions than our own, and no country has a more dismal record of harnessing such inventions to national productions and profit than our own. We want to see something done to stop the tendency of great numbers of young people to go to university for entirely frivolous reasons, and there waste their time as well as the nation's money.

WHY OUR N.F. RACIAL POLICIES ARE RIGHT

Lesley Read came from a successful English family living in the North of England. Her parents were learned and successful. One was an accountant, the other a magistrate. We would have hoped that Lesley would have had a similar career and married someone from an equal level of society. Under normal circumstances they would have had children who would have grown up to be decent, moral Christians citizens and taken their place as stalwarts of the British nation. It is with deep regret that we find that this did not happen.

Young Lesley came down to London in 1972 to attend a course in a college. Here she would have encountered the rag-bag of the anti-British left who despised the British nation, the European race and our achievements.

Lesley Read

Naive, and the first time away from home, she would have been accosted by the Anti-Nazi League, the International Marxists and the Socialist Workers Party. Her head would have been filled with race mixing nonsense that abounded in the colleges and universities at the time.

During her time at college she met a Jamaican railway worker who complained of racial discrimination. They struck up a relationship and got married. Robin was in jail soon afterwards. He was in jail for a total of 18 years for burglaries and car theft. The short lived marriage ended in divorce in 1978. They had a son which the father hardly ever saw. Jamaican-born Mr Read felt that he did not fit into British society and became a Moslem. He introduced his half-caste son into the religion when they were re-united. The son, Richard Read, became a member of Bin Laden's terrorist force. He is now in a U.S. jail facing court charges of trying to ignite explosives hidden in his shoes on an aeroplane during a Paris-Miami flight in December last year.

If young Lesley had listened to the National Front and followed our nations beliefs, her life story would likely have been more rewarding. It is a tragedy that so many of our youngsters are brainwashed by the rent-a-mob of the extreme left.

Y.N.F. ACTIVITY

Young National Front members were very active with constant events on our part, as well as fighting the June General Election. To take a break from city life, the Birmingham Y.N.F. organized a sponsored walk, the proceeds going towards a much-needed minibus for Birmingham branch. We traveled to Ashby-de-la-Zouch. From there we headed to Burton along the A511 and picked up the canal route. After a few hours of walking we reached Burton. We were disappointed to find this area densely occupied by immigrants. Changes had to be made from our original route due to foot and mouth contamination. We set up camp a few miles outside Lichfield. On the second day we passed through Lichfield, Whittingham and Tamworth.

The Birmingham Y.N.F. would like to thank all of the sponsors, organizers and participants. This year we will organize a longer walk. Please contact Birmingham National Front if you would like to take part.

FLUORIDE : THE CONTROLLING FACTOR

In the 1930s Hitler and the German Nazis envisioned a world to be dominated by the Nazi philosophy of Pan-Germanism. The German chemists worked out a very ingenious and far reaching plan of mass control which was submitted to and adopted by the....General Staff. This plan was to control the population in any given area through mass-medication of drinking water supplies. By this method they could control the population of whole areas, reduce population by water medication that would produce sterility in women and so on. In this scheme of mass control sodium fluoride occupied a prominent place.

We are told by fanatical ideologists who are advocating the fluoridation of water supplies in this country that their purpose is to reduce tooth decay in children and it is the plausibility of this excuse, plus the gullibility of the public and the cupidity of public officials that is responsible for the present spread of fluoridation. However...the real reason behind water fluoridation is not to benefit children's teeth. If this was the real reason there are many ways in which it could be done that are much easier, cheaper and more effective. The real reason behind water fluoridation is to reduce the resistance of the masses to domination and control and loss of liberty. In the rear occiput of the left lobe of the brain there is a small area that is responsible for the individual's power to resist domination. Repeated doses of infinitesimal amounts of fluoride will, in time,...by slowly poisoning and narcotising this area...make him submissive...to those who wish to govern him. When the Nazis, under Hitler, decided to go into Poland...the German General Staff and the Russian General Staff exchanged scientific and military ideas, plans and personnel, and the scheme of mass control was seized upon by the Communists because it fitted ideally into their plan to communise the world. I was told of this entire scheme by a German chemist who was an official of the great Farben chemical industries and also prominent in the Nazi movement at the time... any person who drinks artificially fluoridated water for a period of one year or more will never again be the same person mentally or physically." Charles Eliot Perkins, a scientist who spent nearly 20 years studying the chemistry, biochemistry, physiology and pathology of fluoride and who was sent by the U.S. government to help take charge of the giant I.G. Farben plant at the end of World War 11.

Questions

1. Why was the trained chemist, Margaret Thatcher, so keen to force fluoride onto the British and Northern Irish population?
2. Why did the Spanish only fluoridate the Basque Seperatist region ?
3. Why did the Israelis fluoridate the Gaza Strip? Was it only waste dumping? We may also point out that Margaret Thatcher and the Queen drink only imported bottled water?

GANGLAND BRITAIN

Back in the times when Britain was a civilised country, before our evil enemies took over political control, we had the deterrent of the death penalty for murder. There also existed a situation where anyone who laid a finger on a police officer would get a long term prison sentence. The guilty party would have been caught even if it meant mobilising the entire police force. Today, officers are put at risk because the Home Office has allowed a situation to develop where policemen and women are pushed, attacked and insulted without any action taken to deal with the miscreants.We have recently witnessed Winston Silcott being released from jail to go on a day-long shopping trip. Silcott was convicted of murdering P.C. Constable Keith Blakelock during the Tottenham riots on the Broadwater Farm Estate in 1985. In 1991 he was cleared of this charge by the Court of Appeal. This seems to be a decision reached for reasons of political correctness, although 14 witnesses had identified him as the leader of the mob. In 1984, Silcott murdered boxer Anthony Smith, a crime for which he was given a mere 16-year sentence. Such lenient treatment is encouraging violent and murderous behaviour. Silcott should have been hung.

Brixton, the home of the black yardie gangs, is reminiscent of Chicago during the 20's. There are wars going on between rival gangs over the lucrative drug trade. Scotland Yard Deputy Assistant Commissioner Mike Fuller said, "The power struggle has already produced a chilling spate of shootings, robberies and vicious intimidation." Drug addicts take their lives in their hands every time they make a transaction. When buyers have examined the dope that they have bought and found it to be sub-standard, they have complained to the dealers and many have been stabbed by doing so. The black crack-dealing gangsters are using stolen credit cards and driving licences to hire expensive cars which they use for drive by shootings. One incident which shows how the Yardie gangs rule the area occurred in Brixton in October. Richard Parry was filming his latest movie in Coldharbour Lane. He had cordoned off the road while he was filming. In doing so the film crew encroached on the sales pitch of the drug dealers. The movie makers were threatened with being shot and told that they must pay protection money. The drug dealers stopped Parry as he walked home and stabbed him in the head.

Yardies are not the only gangsters who infest our streets, gangs from eighty countries operate here. They deal in the sphere of drugs, prostitution, illegal immigration and money laundering. The government smiles benignly at the black criminals in Brixton and Notting Hill. These are the favoured parts of London for "New " Labour. The black gangsters laugh at British law as they go about their criminal activities. It is quite clear that the Yardies control the streets of London where shootings, stabbings and intimidation are a daily occurrence. Such is the power that our Home Secretaries have given to them that no-one dares speak out against them. Think what a dangerous position the public are in. Yardies shoot each other for the most trivial things. One was shot for taking anothers pool table, another for sipping his drink, and a third for treading on another's foot. One Yardie shot another for allegedly taking his parking space. Just suppose that that driver had been you? Last year police called for tougher immigration controls to halt the rapid rise in violent crime.

Heroine W P C Sally Wilkinson

Their request fell on deaf ears. Actor, Roger Lloyd-Peck was angry when his son was mugged in North London for the fifth time in 18 months. Despite reporting two of the incidents, no action was taken by the police. According to the local newspapers, thugs regularly congregate in gangs, menacing the public as they walk by. Seldom do the police come to the aid of the victims when called for. There has been a 22% increase in muggings within the last six months. Police officers who want to do the job properly are prevented from doing so by members of the loony- left establishment who are hell bent on wrecking Britain.In July three policemen were injured in Brixton when a mob of 120 black youngsters went on the rampage. They overturned cars, smashed shop windows and looted the shops.

During November W.P.C. Sally Wilkinson had the job of trying to arrest one of a gang of drug dealers. She was repeatedly punched and kicked by five men as she lay on the ground. Police Chiefs were "outraged" that no one came to her assistance. We are outraged that a W.P.C. was put in such a dangerous position. Everyone knows that black drug-dealers have no respect for the police force, life is cheap and murder and stabbing to them are a way of life.- They think no more of stabbing someone than we would of having a cup of coffee. It is criminal lunacy to expect a lone woman police constable to make an arrest of a Yardie drug dealer. We can only commend her bravery and heap scorn upon those who put her in such a dangerous position.

ORWELLIAN EUROSPEAK

Tony Blair has recently said that he is glad that we have not adopted the euro. This does not mean that "New" Labour are any less determined to sign us up to the single currency when they feel that they can get away with it. Eurocrats are trying to get us used to the euro by making it legal tender. We must counter this trick by refusing to take it. Traders who sell in pounds and ounces have been prosecuted for doing so. The excuse given for this anti-British action is that pounds and ounces are not the measurements currently in use. Why are companies dealing in euros similarly not being prosecuted? Could it be that they have close ties to the establishment parties, unlike the small traders who have more in common with the general public? The government claims that introducing the euro is for the

SOCIALISTS CAUSED THE NORTHERN TOWN RIOTS

For decades the Labour Party and it's left wing allies have been creating hatred in the minds of both Britons and immigrants. Leftists have continually roused the Asians to anger by telling them that their problems have been caused by white racists being selfish and not giving enough. Socialists have managed to engender a feeling of deprivation and resentment in the minds of the poorer Asians, which has caused them to take to the streets to seek confrontation.

The truth is that far more money has been spent on the immigrant community than on the run down white estates. Britons who have dared complain about the injustices have been threatened with jail under the race relations acts, loss of job or even eviction from their council house. Under socialism many British people have lived like people under an occupying army.

The state of conflict has been deliberately created by socialists for their own purposes. They have often claimed that " Racial Tension is our greatest weapon". EU socialists have said "All-white European countries must become multi racial". No all-white lands will be tolerated. Now everybody should realise what is going on.

The Labour Government knew that the National Front and the BNP would inform the whites of how they were being cheated and downtrodden. You cannot blame the National Front for the troubles – all we did was to tell the truth and expose government unfairness.

Manzoor Moghal, Chairman of the Federation of Moslem Organisations in Leicester has said recently " The Commission of Racial Equality and the Race Relations Industry have become increasingly discredited and irrelevant. They have come to perpetuate divisions in our society. They are also scared of being accused of selling out , or violating the rules of political correctness ". Now that the immigrants themselves recognise that the Race Relations Industry is a power for evil, it is time we demanded it's abolition. Mr Moghul also acknowledged that greater help had been bestowed upon the immigrant communities. He said " Misguided policies developed by the CRE and government race relations experts meant that public money was pumped into these ghettoes while similarly deprived white neighbourhoods were perceivably ignored.

The fact that so many people are in fear of raising the issue of immigration shows how far we have allowed the socialist tyranny to develop. The Race Relations Industry was never set up to create racial harmony. It's main purpose is to conceal the identity of those attempting to destroy the British nation and to silence criticism of the multi-racial society.

convenience of the public. The number of people wanting to use pounds and ounces as well as feet and inches and the other imperial measures we have always used is much greater. It is quite clear that signing up to the euro is not merely a case of adopting a new currency. It is a matter of giving up our independence and national sovereignty. Any referendum should not be worded so as to simply ask "Should we give up the pound and adopt the euro?" It must ask if we should give up our national independence and become a small insignificant part of a socialist bloc state.

ARE GOVERNMENTS AS BARMY AS THEY MAKE OUT ?

The last Conservative government banned the use of handguns, cut down the number of rifles and pistols held by sportsmen and closed down many perfectly safe firing ranges. Many of the weapons so mindlessly destroyed were of historical interest to the red blooded Anglo Saxon. Of course this downright imposition was directed only at white men. In 1997 the then Home Secretary, Jack Straw, admitted that shootings in Brixton had got out of control. He mounted a guns amnesty in Brixton, calling for anyone holding a gun without a licence to hand it in. This measure would in no way affect the number of handguns held by criminals. It is not hard to find illegal firearms salesmen. On countless occasions people who we know have been approached by middle-men, saying something like : If you want a weapon, automatic or manual, go to the Dog and Duck any Tuesday night and ask for Dodgy Ron. If we hear such talk, how come Special Branch does not ? The single-shot sports rifles that were confiscated are not the kind of weapons used by criminals. Guns from the former Soviet Union have poured into Britain, so too the Chinese-made AR-15 assault rifle. The only effect of the government clamp-down on gun clubs has been to severely hamper those who compete in competition. Rifle and pistol shooting competitions have historically been an event in which British sportsmen excel. The stupid and insensitive measures taken by government have spoiled the enjoyment of British riflemen, and jeopardised our chances in international competition. While the enjoyment of leisure time has been curtailed for the white man, the Yardies are laughing as they drive their Mercedes and B.M.W '.s around London, selling drugs and shooting anyone who displeases them. It is of course easier to police those people who allow themselves to be policed. We would like to know where the safety factor or equality comes in here. In spite of the governments bloody minded attitude to gun sports, Richard Faulds won a gold medal in the Australian, 2000 Olympic Games, for the double trap, clay pigeon contest. Richard, who lives on a farm in Hampshire has been a keen marksman since he was ten.

"HEY DAD, TODAY I WAS A FAGGOTT"

When I wrote in an edition of New Dawn, that American teenagers were having "sex lessons" which involved young boys role-playing being a faggot who is "coming out" as well as "Homo Appreciation Day", many readers wrote in telling me of similar horror stories taking place in British schools.

Recently, I was contacted by a mum, who lives in Glasgow, and is horrified with what her children are being taught in school. Now that Section 28 has been repealed in Scotland children are being exposed to pro-homosexual teachings, graphic "instructions" on abhorrent sexual practices and encouraged to see abortion as another form of birth control. So I thought that I would look into this a little further. What I found was shockingly disgusting and even as an adult, I found highly offensive.

The new Teacher's Guide encourages teachers to use the language of the "street" instead of "clinical" language. Primary school teachers are asked to demonstrate condoms to pupils by putting them on artificial penises. Secondary school teachers are to cover detailed technique of condom use, where students are encouraged to try them out at home and buy them from chemists for homework. These same students learn about the "full range of sexual activities" including group sex and sado-masochism. Pupils are asked to role-play homosexual characters, write stories about lesbian families and 9 year-olds learn that "it is important to think about homosexual sex in exactly the same way as heterosexual sex". Marriage is mentioned little, if at all. Here is a sample of what the Scottish Executive wants children to be taught. (many people may find this disturbing, but we feel it's important to know what is planned for your child's education:

7 year- olds are asked to label a male and female body, including the vagina, penis and the clitoris 7-9 year- olds watch a cartoon couple having sex in various positions whilst a child's voice says "they look happy, don't they?" 7-11 year olds are taught that there are different forms of "families" including " Anne and Jack, who live with their mum and her partner, Pauline. Sexual language includes the explanation of terms like "anal intercourse, masturbation, lesbian, oral sex and bi-sexual. 11-14 year-olds are encouraged to " put on a condom and masturbate at home." They are also asked to discuss various sexual activities such as sexual toys, sadism/masochism, multiple partners, partner swapping, anal intercourse, oral sex and disturbingly "licking bottoms", where not even any mention of any health warning exists.`

There are "guides" available to all children, regardless of age, on all manner of homosexual sex including anal sex, urinating on each other, group sex and public sex, which is illegal! The "Living and Growing "series, which is used for 5-11 year-olds is published by Channel 4! Of course we are all aware of their pro-homosexual, anti-family, anti-white television shows-now they have entered the arena of children's education If the Scottish public realised the lies they were being fed by the Labour government and its homosexual sidekicks, they would never have let Section 28 be repealed. England and Wales are going to be pressurised in adopting the same programme of filth, degeneracy and perversion.

The National Women's Front Won't let it slip behind the fog of the Labour Party- we intend to bring this to the attention of every parent in the country - so that our children are not forced-fed this filth. It is vitally important, in order to protect our children, that you voice you concern regarding the repealing of Section 28 wherever you live.

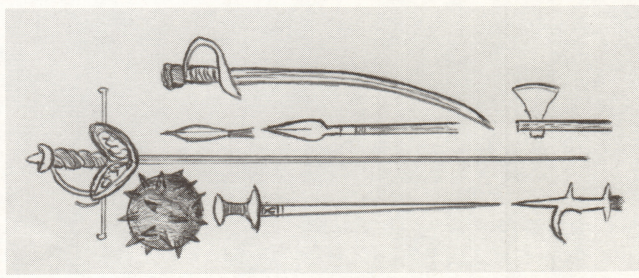
THE LATE MARY WHITEHOUSE

A TIRELESS CAMPAIGNER FOR DECENCY

The late Mary Whitehouse - a tireless campaigner for decency, Mary Whitehouse died last November. She predicted that the subversive left-wing media would corrupt society and lead to an increase in violence, sex assaults, paedophilia, homosexuality, divorce and drug abuse. She was right, liberalism certainly has increased permissive behaviour. She received countless thousands of letters in support of her crusade. We have noticed that since her departure the left-wing filth have stepped up their campaign to further lower the moral standards that still remain.

SOCIALISTS TRY TO ERASE BRITAINS PAST

English history has been removed from much of the school curriculum, only to be replaced by the study of the lives of drug abusing worthies such as John Lennon. Ewart Oakeshott, an 85-year-old authority on medieval arms and armour, has accumulated a collection of weapons which were made over a period of 4,000 years. This is considered one of the finest exhibitions in the world of beautiful and rare weapons. A mere £300,000 would secure the assemblage for the nation. Predictably, the leftists running our country are not prepared to buy the collection, which may now go to America. However, public money can always be found for ventures, such as the Turner Prize which is an excuse to deride British art. In 2000, an unmade bed took first prize, and last year a set of ceiling lights going on and off was deemed a worthy winner.



CLARIFYING THE SITUATION

The anti-British Labour Party has used the excuse of upsetting immigrants in order to ban St George's Day, the Cross of St George, Englishness, Christmas and the traditional schools' nativity play. It was the Labour government who designed the census form with no category for English. It was a socialist Magistrates Court that fined Christopher Molyneux for defending his right to call himself English. It is Tony Blair's communist friends in Euroland who have removed the word England from the EU map and want to drag us screaming into the Socialist Eurostate. Ken Livingstone is one of many leftists throughout the country trying to abolish St George's Day. It was the Labour controlled Council in Luton who banished Christmas this year and the Labour run Council in Birmingham who turned Christmas into " Winterval", thus taking Christmas out of the festivities. It is abundantly clear that the Labour Party is the enemy of the British nation and not the immigrants. In fact, many immigrants in Leicester last year thought that we should be allowed to have our St George's Day rally. It was only the Labour Party and their allies in the Anti-Nazi League and Socialist Workers Party who wanted it stopped. We want immigrants to return home, but they are not the cause of the difficulties. If Labour and Conservative governments had not implemented the agenda of the Communist Party on immigration, we would not have an immigrant problem now.

NO ROOM FOR WHITE MEN

Hundreds of thousands of so-called asylum-seekers and bogus refugees are being encouraged to come to our country. There will be no end to those allowed in, and the day will never come when an "establishment" government will say enough is enough. Some are genuinely escaping trouble; most are not. Their presence here has nothing to do with humanity or compassion, but everything with keeping Labour in power. It is clear that our government is keen to get as many coloureds into our country as possible, should however a white person want to enter Britain, then the position is reversed. Duncan Fletcher, the hero England cricket coach, who led our team to a second test victory over Sri Lanka has been refused a British passport. Duncan has been living in Rhodesia (Zimbabwe), but now wants to come to Britain. Both of his parents are British, so too both his grandparents, yet he has been turned down. The gravity of the situation has been underlined by the Hinduja cash for passports scandal.

Letters To The Editor

So Gordon Brown wants to increase taxation in order to improve the N.H.S. The government receives adequate public money to run the health service to a high standard. Unfortunately for us, the N.H.S. is way down the government's list of priorities. Getting Britain fully in the E.U., creating a Socialist state and bombing into submission any nation that does not want to become part of the New World Order are all that they are interested in. Of course, keeping their snouts in the trough is also a constant objective. A good proportion of public money that should have been assigned to the N.H.S., education and transport has been squandered on the governments pet projects. If our senior politicians behaved in the same way working for private companies they would be taken to court over misappropriation of funds and, in some cases theft. No matter how immorally, fraudulent and deceitfully our public servants behave, when they depart they still receive a "golden -handshake" and a generous pension. More often than not, having made a complete hash of the job they have been given, they are offered another well-paid job of high importance, for which they have no qualifications. There is no deterrent against politicians and public servants acting in a criminal manner. If there were any justice, many of our politicians would by now have been sent to jail.

DELIBERATE FLOODING

According to the Office of National Statistics, the population of Britain will soar to 65 million within twenty years. This would be as a result of continued immigration and a high birth rate among the Asian and Arab communities. The excuse given by a government spokesman for this appalling prospect is that "our economy, standard of living and generous welfare system is attracting them here". You could equally say that burglars are attracted to the wealthy areas of the detached house commuters belt, but this does not mean that the burglars should not be kept out.

THE PARTY SYSTEM LETS US DOWN

The Celts, Vikings, Danes, Angles, Saxons and Normans set up their own towns and cities which became the Shires. For over a 1,000 years the character and regional representation in government have made England interesting and stable. The current Party system, with its county-constituency borders give the impression that nothing has changed. Yes it has, no longer are voters represented by someone who is a champion of their area. I can safely say that under the current party system hardly anyone feels that they are being catered for, or have anyone in power who they can turn to. I would like to see Members of Parliament elected from each Shire on ability rather than as a reward for being a lap-dog of the old party system. Anything that is of importance to the British the Socialists want to get rid of.

Not surprisingly, New Labour has announced that it wants to get rid of the Shires and the existing tier of local government that they provide. Closet socialist Michael Heseltine started an attack on the Shires some years back. The public showed their disapproval and the Shires have been left alone since. New Labour would like to scrub England and its Shires off the map and replace them with a cross - reference grid as just part of the landmass of the E.U.

The government claims that we have a skill shortage and is using this as an excuse to bring in yet more foreigners to hold down the more desirable jobs. The British are the best engineers in the world. We have been responsible for many great inventions and, although the Labour Party would like to burn the history books, our small nation has achieved great things. If you are young and still undecided on a career, there are wonderful opportunities for consultant engineers, construction engineers and designers. We desperately need more Christian British lawyers, barristers and solicitors. The Christian churches are crying out for traditional style clergymen and I am sure that our own people can make far better television programmes that those on offer.

Mr A. Armitage Sheffield

It has been very difficult recently to obtain what I consider a decent loaf of bread. Canada used to supply the hard wheat which the British public preferred, but this import was unfortunately terminated by politicians. The E.U. has forced us to take wheat from Europe which is deficient in selenium. The lack of this is not good for our health and the public have been advised to take selenium in some other form. 3 Brazil nuts every day are required for everyone to overcome the problem. We are told that we live under a Free Trade System, If this is so, Why cannot we trade with who we wish?

John Lennon And Yoko Ono

Socialist teachers have removed traditional British history from the school curriculum. The life of John Lennon the drug-taking left-wing subversive, is being offered as an alternative.

A TWO FINGERED SALUTE FROM THE LABOUR PARTY

An old soldier from Liverpool used to relate that he overheard two Labour councilors bragging that they had urinated on a memorial to the British war dead. The same perverse attitude seems to exist in the minds of many leftists. Last November presenters on the B.B.C. World Service were banned from wearing poppies during Remembrance week. Notices were also put up in the studio, telling staff not to wear poppies during transmission. This follows a disgraceful decision by the Labour government to cut the wages of the gardeners who tend the war graves. Our dead heroes get better treatment in France and Germany than currently in socialist circles in Britain.

Previous to this, Lottery Cash Chiefs refused to give financial help to the Dunkirk Little Ships Restoration Fund. The latter were hoping for £1 million to restore the boats which rescued 30,000 British and Allied troops from the beaches at Dunkirk in May 1940. Over 530 million pounds of lottery cash at that time had been wasted on the Millenium Dome. A spokesman for the Heritage Lottery Fund said of the restoration project "It did not merit any money.

Leftist Hollywood movie-makers are continually re-writing history and undermining British achievements. They are confident that they can brainwash the young who were not around to witness these events at the time. Films, unfortunately, are the only glimpses of history that most people see. Last year the B.B.C. spent £15 million on a television series called Band of Brothers, which re-writes history. In this production by Steven Spielberg, the Americans are seen single-handedly winning the war, with British and Allied servicemen playing a minor role. Surprise! Surprise! Tony Blair had a hand in this. He felt that the series was so important that he took a special interest in monitoring its development.

In Peter Mandelson's own words, equally "gut-wrenching" is the government's treatment of the St Dunstan's charity for blinded servicemen. No government funding is provided at all. For the past two years we have seen old-age pensioners making donations to this charity out of the pittance that they receive as an old-age pension.

THERE IS HOPE FOR THE FUTURE

Jonathan Dimbleby's daughter, Kitty, was brought up in a family where politics dominated the conversation. Her mother, journalist Bel Mooney, used to be a left-wing activist. She attended the anti-Vietnam and C.N.D. marches. Father Jonathon, was a radical T.V. reporter and has spoken at student rallies against racism. Daughter Kitty had also been involved in left-wing issues. Recently, however, having seen the Labour government in action, she has become disillusioned with politics. Kitty said " New Labour glorifying in all that " Cool Brittania" hype has spent the past four years trying to appeal to my generation, and I think they have failed. The fact is the backtracking policy shifts and publicity stunts have all left a bad taste in the mouth. I see a government out of touch with the people. None of today's career politicians actually inspire. I can't think of a single politician, now who would put their head over the parapet for something they truly believe in. And what price do we pay? An election full of promises and childish backbiting. I want a leader who will command respect - not to tell me to call him Tony and ask if I have the latest Oasis album."

Congratulations to Miss Dimbleby. Despite all the years of political fog that has surrounded her; she can see exactly where our problems lie. Let us encourage more of her generation to open their eyes and help rid us of the treacherous dullards who currently occupy the corridors of power.

THE POISONING OF SAINT GEORGE

This coin was produced to commemorate the Festival of Britain in 1951. Britain at the time along with the U.S.A. was, the leading industrial country in the world. Our nation was synonymous with greatness, enterprise, confidence, team spirit, vigour and success. Although not affluent by modern-day standards, there was a large force of highly skilled workers, who took a pride in having the ability to do a job and do it well. Made in Britain was a sign of top quality and an Englishman's honesty, truthfulness and integrity earned him the expression that an "Englishman's word was his bond." A British passport was something of value and a document to be proud of. St George, the patron saint of England, stood for courage in the face of adversity, and had a place in the heart of every red-blooded Englishman.

For forty years we have allowed the know-nothing, political pygmies of the left to take control and destroy everything that was good about Britain. The result has been a breakdown in the National Health Service, a transport system that is falling apart, a staggering rise in crime and a police force which is prevented from doing its duty by the Home Office. At every opportunity the Labour Party has run down the size of our armed forces. They have now reached a level where they are incapable of defending us. On top of this, we are currently being told that we should not celebrate St George's Day, fly our national flag or call ourselves English. It is time to kick the socialists on to the sidelines where they belong, and breathe life back into Britain ourselves.

If We Knew What Caused Babies We'd Stop Having Them

You may think that the couple in the cartoon are daft, but many voters are just as stupid. They fail to realise that as long as they keep voting for the old parties whose policies are causing the majority of the problems besetting our country, things can only go on getting worse.

THE SICK N.H.S.

A national survey of doctors has found that 85% of them have a very low morale. This should come as no shock to those acquainted with the under manning of the N.H.S.. Extra time that doctors now have to spend doing paperwork is an extra new irritation for them. Many have said that their ability to help patients is hampered by the burden of managerial responsibilities. We still have throughout the country a shortage of beds, yet more hospitals are under threat of closure. Many patients wait for months, sometimes even years, for a date for an operation. When the day finally arrives the operation is often cancelled due to a shortage of either staff or facilities. It is ironic that while Indians are being treated free on our N.H.S. some English patients are having to go to India for private treatment. Some see it as the only way to ensure that they get an operation before they die of their illness. Due to a severe shortage of staff in our third-world standard hospitals, many frail and elderly patients are left unsupervised. Without help, many go without eating their meals. Nurses have left the profession in droves and quite understandably. The pay has never been good, but in former times there was job satisfaction and sometimes help with accommodation. There is something wrong with our society while nurses, who do such a vital job, are underpaid and exploited, while many who can only be described as parasites are living in luxury and making a fortune.

The sick state of affairs was highlighted when a completely out-of-touch and callous Tony Blair warned nurses "not to expect to get rich on health service pay -- but to reap the rewards from the job itself." There are no rewards from a job that cannot be performed satisfactorily,, and there are no rewards in poverty. The champagne swilling chattering classes of New Labour will never understand, nor want to understand, while they are in such an undemanding and privileged position.
